COMMITMENT.

Every day, for two hours each day, for the last two weeks our students and their MeckEd Advisors have shown up. Even on exam days when they could have easily stayed home—these students showed up.

Today is the final day of their College and Career Readiness journey with Courtney Little. They have learned about the labor market, choosing a career, how to research colleges, interviewing skills, and so much more. Today, they're learning about careers in Architecture from a professional Architect.

They have also learned what it feels like to invest in themselves.

Super proud of these scholars!
